For over 35 years, brothers Ray and John Delaney have entertained audiences around the northeast and beyond with their own brand of wonderful “brother duo” harmony that was the hallmark of legendary acts such as Jim and Jesse McReynolds and the Louvin Brothers. With John’s smooth lead vocals and Ray’s high tenor harmonies, they cultivated a unique sound, which built a loyal fanbase that has continued to grow throughout the years. While Ray is no longer with us, John and the band intend to continue the journey the brothers began all those years ago.

December 7 @ 2 & 7:30PM

A play-reading of “A Christmas Carol”

The Sherburne Music Theater Society (SMTS) proudly presents an adapted version of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol, with two productions on December 7 at 2:00 and 7:30 pm.

In this production, a young girl is introduced to the story through a copy of the book, which is mysteriously placed in her backpack. Instead of doing her homework, she becomes caught up in the tale, and as the characters come to life, she imagines herself portraying some of the roles.

Filled with ghosts and good deeds, it is a story for young and old of finding the Spirit of Christmas. It will be a wonderful way to begin the holiday season.
