"Deja Vu"

I am a multi-disciplinary artist interested in epigenetics, architecture, and visual storytelling. My work depicts the interconnectedness of human physiology and how trauma causes the brain to disorganize neural circuits. My work serves to educate and empower healing the body and mind with nutrients rather than drugs. Through transforming research into drawing, I aim to connect and communicate strength, hope and optimism, while showing us how fallibly human we are.

"Meraki"

My painting journey began one winter's night when my boredom got the best of me. I was raising three small children and my nights were full of sitcoms and mopping the kitchen floor. I often joke and say it was my calling. Out of nowhere, I had the desire to paint.

I remember as a child I would often draw, compete in sidewalk chalk competitions and I eventually got into graphic design. For as long as I remember I had always wanted to be an artist. Little did I know that desire would take me down the most incredible, life changing experience.

Frank Calidonna

"Death is the Mother of Beauty"

I have been interested in photography since receiving my first camera as a kid in 1947. This became a passion when I started college. (BA – LaSalle College, MS- SUNY Cortland – extensive graduate work in media and TV production at U Mass and U Tennessee) I went from being a serious amateur to running two photographic businesses. Calidonna Photography ran for about twenty years specializing in wedding and portrait photography. Diversified Photographic Services followed this, which was mainly architectural photography and studio still life. I closed this in 1992 and went back to being a happy amateur.

Arts Cafe Series

Dove Creek

October 5 @ 7PM

On October 5, the Arts Cafe welcomes Dove Creek with original member Putter Cox joining Reyna Stagnaro for a special night of music. Reyna and Putter formed Dove Creek in 2008 and developed their signature blend of eclectic Americana - warm, honest, heartfelt with a unique mix of mandolin, guitar, distinctive vocals and solid harmonies. Their repertoire includes originals, covers, and instrumentals. Putter left Hamilton two years ago and resides in Virginia. Reyna continues the duo with guitarist Ed Vollmer, but this performance will be a nostalgic nod to the old favorites that created and defined Dove Creek with some new songs, too! Please join us for this singular event!

Polymer Clay

Lentil Swirl Bead

Workshop

With Dana Shiflett

October 6, 1-3PM

Polymer clay is an entertaining and addictive medium for making pretty much anything you can think of, and making lentil swirl beads is just about the most fun you can have playing with this stuff. The concept is very easy to learn, and the results are unexpectedly beautiful.

The cost of this class is $30, which includes instruction and all supplies necessary to make a variety of beads and a necklace. The class is intended as a fundraiser, with the entire fee benefiting the programs and services of the Earlville Opera House.

Call (315) 691-3550 to register!

Add violin, electric guitar and the pedal steel and there is William Road.
